

ANNUAL REPORT

July 1, 2014 – June 30, 2015

I am pleased to report on a banner year in the history of the Sioux City Art Center. While celebrating the Art Center's centennial with several special events, the main attraction was the exhibition Jackson Pollock: Mural.

Pollock's 8 x 22 foot painting, Mural, is one of if not the most important artwork ever done by an American artist. The large-scale painting commissioned by Peggy Guggenheim for her home in 1943 established Jackson Pollock as an important artist, while also opening the door for Abstract Expressionism, the first American art movement of international significance.

The freshly restored, ground breaking painting traveled from the J. Paul Getty Museum to the Art Center before beginning its European tour at the Peggy Guggenheim Museum in Venice, Italy, as part of the Venice Biennale. After taking part in the Biennale, one of the most prestigious international art shows in the world, Mural was scheduled to travel to Berlin, Amsterdam, and London, before returning to the United States.

In addition to the excitement of the Pollock exhibition, the centennial reminded us of the importance of individuals uniting around a vision for the future. The men and women that founded the Society of Fine Arts in 1914 created an organization that would result in the present day Sioux City Art Center.

As director of the Art Center I am especially cognizant of the legacy that we as a community inherited from those that came before us, and what we, in our turn, will leave for future generations. While all accredited museums share the core mission of collecting, interpreting and preserving their collections, in my opinion the most important thing we do is share our collections. In a society in which reproductions dominate our popular culture, and the cost of fine art is prohibitive, art museums provide a place in which all members of society can experience original works of fine art.

My hope is that the Sioux City Art Center remains free to the public, continuing its legacy of making art accessible to all members of our community. What has and will continue to make this possible is the model public/private partnership between the City of Sioux City and Art Center Association of Sioux City. Without this wonderful partnership the Art Center would be hard pressed to make its programs and collection accessible to all.

Special recognition to the Gilchrist Foundation for its role as principle sponsor of the Jackson Pollock: Mural exhibition.

I look forward to seeing you at the Art Center.

EXHIBITIONS AND GALLERY TALKS / LECTURES

2014-2015 was dominated by the presentation of Jackson Pollock: Mural. The exhibition along with complementary didactic information and video presentations utilized the entire first floor with the exception of the Gardner Room and the Junior League Hands-on! Gallery.

Additional exhibitions during 2014-2015 included two ongoing exhibitions, Grant Wood's Corn Room mural and The Sioux City Art Center Permanent Collection, which had been moved in May 2014 to the third floor to allow the Margaret Ann Martin Everist Permanent Collection Gallery to host Jackson Pollock: Mural. The Permanent Collection was reopened in the Margaret Ann Martin Everist Permanent Collection Gallery, as well as in the Community Gallery, on May 9, 2015.

The Gardner Room, the only exhibit space not used for Jackson Pollock: Mural for the bulk of the fiscal year, hosted six exhibitions of works produced by local organizations and students at the Art Center.

The Main Gallery hosted four exhibitions. The first two presented works from the Art Center's Permanent Collection that were thematically connected to the presentation of Jackson Pollock: Mural. The latter two featured regularly scheduled exhibitions, Youth Art Month Exhibition and The Briar Cliff Review Exhibition.

Docent Program

Our team of nine dedicated volunteer docents attended informative and educational tours given at the beginning of every new exhibition by the curator and education coordinator. We are extremely grateful to the docents for conducting 110 tours, serving 2,353 children and adults. Included in these numbers is the ARTWORKS program, serving fifth grade students who receive free busing, a guided tour, and an opportunity to create a piece of artwork based on the Grant Wood murals. There were 38 ARTWORKS tours with a total of 975 fifth-grade students in attendance.

Project SOAR

Held throughout the month of June, Project SOAR is intended for artistically-talented high school students who would enjoy and learn from a concentrated, fifteen-hour art workshop. This year's Project SOAR utilized the expertise of four highly qualified artists and instructors including: Terri McGaffin, (printmaking), Chris Holton (3-D multi-media), Deb Gengler-Copple (chalk pastels), and Nan Wilson (painting/mixed media). Fourteen students from surrounding area high schools participated in this program which is underwritten by the Art Center Association of Sioux City.

Youth Art Month

In celebration of Youth Art Month, the Sioux City Art Center held its 26th Annual Juried Youth Art Exhibition for area elementary schools, from February 14 – April 5, 2015. This year's juror, Terri McGaffin, chose 51 pieces for the exhibition out of the 517 artworks submitted. Of the 51 selected pieces, 27 schools were represented. The opening reception on Sunday, February 15th was extremely well received with 360 students, teachers, friends and family filling the atrium. Councilman Dan Moore, Superintendent Dr. Paul Gausman, Art Center Director Al Harris-Fernandez and Interim Education Coordinator Debra Marqusee assisted in the presentation of awards.

Community requested Classes, Workshops and Outreach Programs

The Education Department hosted 21 community requested workshops throughout the year including the following groups: Girl Scouts of Greater Iowa, South Sioux City Middle School, Anderson Bridal Shower, Henderson Wedding, Hamilton Holiday Party, Empty Bowls project, Siouxland Food Bank, The Red Cross, Building Blocks Day Care (Sergeant Bluff), Apple Tree Daycare, Cubby Care Daycare, Camp High Hopes, Mask Making Fall Fest, Unity Health, Briar Cliff Art Education, Thrivent Financial, Iowa Congressional Art Competition, Hunt Elementary Arts Integration Day, Opportunities Unlimited and The Transition Special Needs Program from South Sioux City.

Education Gallery

The William T. Dible Hallway and the Metz Education Hallway on the second floor have been designated as spaces for hanging artwork created by students and faculty at the Art Center. The displays were changed a total of five times throughout the year and included student art, class schedules and other art-related subjects, such as the elements and principles of art.

ArtCamp 2014

This is the eleventh year the Art Center has hosted ArtCamp. This year's camp was once again, a huge success with 220 children attending. ArtCamp 2014 concluded with an exhibition of the children's artwork which will be on exhibit from August 11 – September 27 in the Education Gallery on the second floor. Approximately 180 students, family and friends attended the closing exhibit.

ArtCamp 2014

The adult classes were available for graduate credit or teaching license renewal credit through Northwest AEA, Briar Cliff University and Morningside College.
