

ANNUAL REPORT

FY July 1, 2017 – June 30, 2018

The Sioux City Art Center is model public/private partnership between the City of Sioux City and Art Center Association of Sioux City, with each contributing approximately one-half of the Art Center's annual average budget of $1,400,000.

Most recently, this partnership resulted in expanding the Art Center with a new facility with the purpose of increasing public access to Art Center's education programs. While the Art Center Association of Sioux City raised the private dollars to purchase the property and construct the new building, the City provided a bridge loan to allow the process to move forward while pledges were collected. The capital campaign had broad public support with over 450 individual donations. Each of the donors is acknowledged in a free commemorative publication, available at the Art Center.

Also during the last year, the Art Center honored Milt and Helen Glazer and Louise Persinger, all long-time supporters, by purchasing artworks in their memory. These memorial purchases of works by Steve Joy, Therman Statom, and Jeff Baldus were made possible by donations from the public in memory of the honorees. In addition, another 18 artworks were also accessioned into the permanent collection, including two works by nationally recognized Sioux City Native American artist Frank Howell.

In addition to purchasing three artworks by Steve Joy in honor of Milt Glazer, Joy was featured in an impressive one-person show at the Art Center. Other notable shows presented in the last year included Crafting Tradition: Oaxacan Wood Carvings, and Anna Reich: The grass outside our homes. While the colorful Oaxacan sculptures celebrated life, Anna Reich's exhibition dealing with both the anticipation and actual experience of war was thought provoking.

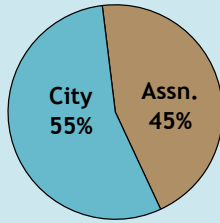

As the exhibition program continued, the education program was interrupted by construction and moving into the Gilchrist Learning Center. The Gilchrist Learning Center had a soft opening in September, featuring a limited class schedule. Implementing plans to ramp up the education program offerings will take place through 2019.

I look forward to seeing you at the Art Center.

Al Harris-Fernandez
Director, Sioux City Art Center
